Administrative History

The Canadian Scottish Regiment incorporated earlier First World War Victoria regiments. On 15 March 1920, Victoria's 88th and 50th Regiments were reorganized into the Canadian Scottish Regiment Non-Permanent Active Militia. On 1 August 1930, The Canadian Scottish again was reorganized into a two-battalion regiment, with the establishment of the 1st Battalion's headquarters in Victoria and the 2nd at Nanaimo. Following the outbreak of the Second World War, the 1st Battalion trained at Macaulay Point Barracks B.C., before traveling to Debert, Nova Scotia in October 1940, and to England in 1941. The 1st Battalion later took part in the Normandy invasion on 6 June, 1944. The 2nd Battalion trained in British Columbia and provided more than 800 officers and men to the 1st Battalion (the 2nd Battalion was disbanded in October 1943 and became the 66th Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment (The Canadian Scottish Regiment) in April 1946). The 3rd (Reserve) Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment was formed in July 1940 of part-time citizen soldiers. Her Royal Highness Princess Mary had been appointed by her father, King George V, as the Regiment's Colonel in Chief in 1930, but it was not until 29 April 1948 that her name officially became part of the regiment's title as The Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's). Other post-war changes included the 1st Battalion taking command of reorganized infantry companies in Duncan, Nanaimo, Courtenay and Port Alberni. In May 1951 a company of the regiment was recruited from the 1st Canadian Highland Battalion in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Today they continue to provide volunteers for United Nations peace teams as part of our NATO commitment.

Introduction

The records of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) were donated to the University of Victoria Special Collections between 1976 and 1999. They document the Regiment's activities from the First World War onwards. They will be of special interest to researchers studying military history, and complement many other military records housed at the University of Victoria Archives/Special Collections. Researchers may, in particular, wish to consult the finding aids of the records of Dr. Reginald Roy, as well as the records of the Canadian Army. Finding aids for these fonds can be found in the University of Victoria Special Collections. In addition, a photograph index has been created for all the photographs located within the records of Canadian Scottish Regiment and related organizations and individuals. This index can also be found in the University of Victoria Special Collections.

Administrative History

The Canadian Scottish Regiment has its origins in the battalions that served during the World War, 1914-1918. The 88th Regiment Victoria Fusiliers and the 50th Regiment (Gordon Highlanders) were formed in Victoria in 1912 and 1913 respectively, and in 1914 the Gordons helped form the 16th Battalion (The Canadian Scottish), Canadian Expeditionary Force. The 16th Battalion took part in all the major engagements of the Canadian corps, including the battles of Ypres, the Somme, Vimy Ridge, and Passchendale. Honours and awards included four Victoria Crosses, 9 DSOs, 40 MCs, 30 DCMs, and 204 MMs. The War cost the 16th Battalion 5,491 casualties, of which 1,412 were fatal. On 15 December in 1915, the Regiment was specially authorized by King George V to wear the Oak Leaf and Acorn Canadian Scottish shoulder titles in commemoration of its courage at the Battle of St. Julien (Kitchener's Wood).

On 15 March 1920, General Order No. 3 reorganized Victoria's 88th and 50th Regiments into the Canadian Scottish Regiment Non-Permanent Active Militia. "The Canadian Scottish" had in fact been the subsidiary title of the 16th Battalion during the First World War. On 15 March 1927 the Regiment was allied with The Royal Scots (The Royal Regiment), the oldest infantry regiment in the British Army with continuous service since 1633, and on 24 April 1930, Her Royal Highness Princess Mary became Colonel-in-Chief of the Canadian Scottish. On 1 August 1930, The Canadian Scottish were reorganized into a two-battalion regiment, with the establishment of the 1st Battalion's headquarters in Victoria and the 2nd at Nanaimo.

Following the outbreak of the Second World War, the 1st Battalion trained at Macaulay Point Barracks on southern Vancouver Island before travelling to Debert, Nova Scotia in October 1940, and to England in 1941. In June 1940, Wallace, the regimental St. Bernard mascot "enlisted". The 2nd Battalion trained in British Columbia and provided more than 800 officers and men to the 1st Battalion (the 2nd Battalion was disbanded in October 1943 and became the 66th Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment (The Canadian Scottish Regiment) in April 1946). The 3rd (Reserve) Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment was formed in July 1940 of part time citizen soldiers.

The 1st Battalion took part in the Normandy invasion on 6 June 1944. By the end of the war they had suffered 1,431 casualties, of which 394 were fatal; they had fought in battles in France, the Netherlands, and Germany, and had won seventeen battle honours and forty-one individual honours and awards. The awards included 4 DSOs, 6 MCs, 5 DCMs, and 13 MMs. After the war, on 1 June 1945, the 4th Battalion was formed for occupation duties, while the 1st Battalion returned to Victoria on 6 January 1946.

Her Royal Highness Princess Mary had been appointed by her father, King George V, as the Regiment's Colonel in Chief in 1930, but it was not until 29 April 1948 that her name officially became part of the regiment's title as The Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's). Other post-war changes included the 1st Battalion taking command of reorganized infantry companies in Duncan, Nanaimo, Courtenay and Port Alberni. In May 1951 a company of the regiment was recruited for the 1st Canadian Highland Battalion in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Today they continue to provide volunteers for United Nations peace teams.

In 1951, 500 Canadian Scottish veterans gathered in Victoria at Pioneer Square where a granite reproduction of the original wooden Vimy Cross, now encased in the Bay Street Armoury, was dedicated to the fallen of both wars. Also the Canadian Scottish received the Freedom of the City of Victoria in 1964 and of Nanaimo in 1974. The post-war years have been highlighted by the official visits of Her Royal Majesty Princess Mary on 15 October 1955 and 16 June 1962. The sadness of her death on 28 March 1965 was relieved by the appointment of Her Royal Majesty Princess Alexandra, as the new Colonel-in-Chief on 11 June 1977. Princess Alexandra visited The Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) on 2 May 1980, and on this occasion opened the Regimental Museum. On 23 September 1989, during her second visit, Princess Alexandra presented the new Queen's Colour to the Regiment.

The Regiment's motto is Deas Gu Cath (Ready for the Fray), which is reflected in the title of Professor Reginald Roy's book, "Ready for the Fray! A History of the Canadian Scottish Regiment" commissioned by the Regiment and published in 1958. During the course of its history over 17,000 people have served in the regiment. In 1989 the Canadian Scottish proudly celebrated its 75th anniversary, welcoming many former members from all parts of Canada and around the world. The Regimental Association has branch offices located in Victoria, Northern Vancouver Island and in the British Columbia interior. Association members pay annual dues and receive The Brazier, the Association's magazine, three times a year.
